A Bill to Decrease Our Nuclear Weapons Stockpile

Section I: The United States military shall not possess more than five hundred (500) nuclear warheads.

Section II: The military may only possess more than five hundred nuclear warheads if the United States is at war and if authorized by a 2/3 majority vote by both houses of Congress with the President's approval.

Section III: Nuclear warheads shall be defined for the purposes of this legislation as any explosive device that derives its destructive force from nuclear reactions.

Section IV: The Department of Defense, the Department of Energy, and the Department of Homeland Security shall oversee the provisions of this legislation.

Section V: This bill will take effect on January 1, 2012.

Section VI: All other laws in conflict with this bill shall hereby be declared null and void.

Respectfully Submitted,
